On July 14, 2022, it was confirmed that the link to the complainant's personal information LINK.1 is still active.

It was verified that the website URL.1 has no identification of its owner or privacy policies, and the data update form leads to an infinite loop that does not allow modification of that information.

In parallel, a request for information was sent to CLOUDFLARE, INC. via email to the address:

EMAIL.3, to which the request sent by certified mail was attached.

An automatic response was received indicating, among other options, to use the email address

EMAIL.4 in case of having contacted them to request information in response to a legal process.

"If you are contacting us to request disclosure of information in response to legal process, please contact EMAIL.4."

An email was sent again to this address, and a record was made in the SIGRID system with the emails and attachments sent.

On August 5, 2022, a response was received from CLOUDFLARE, INC. sent from the email address EMAIL.5 stating that their records do not indicate that the owners are European citizens, although they do not guarantee the accuracy of that information ("In addition, we note that our records do not indicate that the owners are Europeans citizens. However, please note that Cloudflare makes no warranties as to the accuracy of any of this information.").
